Introduction

Through the Library of Congress free reading program, blind and physically handicapped individuals across the nation and Americans living abroad borrow recorded and braille books and magazines. Those eligible for this program may also borrow special playback machines and other equipment. This reading service is administered by the National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped through a nationwide network of more than one hundred sixty cooperating libraries.

Volunteers produce a wide variety of additional braille and recorded material for visually and physically handicapped readers. Their work may involve a textbook on economics for a college student, a series of Supreme Court decisions for a lawyer, or a bestselling novel, a cookbook, or a guide to gardening for the general reader. Such contributions help make a handicapped reader's access to reading material more comparable to that of the non-handicapped public.

This directory, available in large print and braille formats, gives the names of volunteer groups and individuals who transcribe and record books and other reading materials for blind and physically handicapped people. It was compiled from information supplied by organizations and groups known to perform these services.

The listing is alphabetical by state. Each entry is assigned an index number and lists such services as braille transcription, large-print typing, tape recording, duplication, and binding. Specialties that are listed include music, mathematics, and languages. The directory contains information in separate sections on state special education contacts, proofreaders certified by the Library of Congress, and other sources for obtaining materials.

If you are active in producing reading materials for the blind and physically handicapped and your group is not listed in this directory, please submit pertinent information for future editions. Those organizations and individuals that are included should report changes of chairpersons, address, or services performed. Suggestions for improving the directory are also welcome. Send all communications to: Volunteers Who Produce Books, National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, Library of Congress, Washington, DC 20542.

Using This Directory

Volunteers and volunteer groups produce almost any kind of reading material you might need. If you want to obtain information that is not available through the Library of Congress free reading program, the chairperson of one of the many volunteer groups and organizations listed in this directory is usually the best contact. You may request that print material be brailled, recorded, or prepared in large type. When you ask volunteers to transcribe or record materials, you may be asked either to supply the necessary paper, bindings, tapes, or labels or to reimburse the organization for the materials used. The cost should be confirmed each time service is requested.

Examples of how to use the directory follow.

1. You are a student and you need a tape-recorded book in French for a college course. Neither your cooperating library serving blind and physically handicapped readers nor the American Printing House for the Blind can provide the book.

Look under "French" in the index. Use the index numbers to locate a volunteer group that records French materials.

2. You are chairperson of a volunteer group that transcribes textbooks for students. One text includes musical examples. None of the members of your group knows braille music notations.

Look under "Music" in the index. Use the index number to locate a volunteer group near you that transcribes braille music.

3. As chairperson of a volunteer group concerned chiefly with braille transcribing, you want quicker proofreading.

Check the section "Certified Proofreaders." It is arranged by state. This part of the directory will help you locate proofreaders in your area so you can make assignments efficiently and avoid unnecessary shipping delays.

4. You are elected president of the Lions Club and you need a large-type copy of the organization's constitution, annual report, and other basic documents.

In the listing of volunteers, look under your state to locate a group near you that does large-type transcriptions. Explain your situation to the chairperson.

5. You are a certified braille transcriber. You have moved to a new city and want to affiliate with a group.

In the alphabetical listing, look under your state and city to locate a group. If there is none and you want to continue braille, notify the National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, Library of Congress, Washington, DC 20542. You will be advised of sources to contact where you will be able to offer your services as a brailist.

6. You are a government employee and you need to refer frequently to agency manuals or regulations. You need these materials in braille to work efficiently in meeting your obligations to your employer.

Check the alphabetical listing to locate a volunteer braille group in your state and city.

Using This Directory

7. You are a parent of a blind child. You have just moved to a new state, and you want to discuss the services your child will need when he enters the local school. Some of these services will be provided by volunteers.

The "Special Education Resources" section is arranged by state. It includes the name and/or title of the appropriate person and the address to which you should write for an appointment.

8. You are a librarian working for a regional, subregional, private, or public library. One of your readers needs a large-type copy of Macbeth. You have checked with the American Printing House for the Blind and with your cooperating library. The book either is not immediately available on interlibrary loan or has not been produced in large type.

Look under "Large Type" in the index. Use the index numbers to locate a volunteer group that does large-type transcribing.

9. You are planning a special social function. You need several gourmet recipes in braille.

Check the alphabetical listing to locate a braille group. Your request for recipes can probably be met in a hurry.

Available Books

For information on books already available in special formats or in the process of being produced, check with the organizations listed below. For ease of use, these sources have been divided into four groups: general reading materials, music, religion, and textbooks and job-related materials. Users of this directory should note, however, that many of these sources are not limited to the production of only one type of material and should take this into consideration when searching for particular items. Those organizations identified by an asterisk are able to provide book lists or catalogs of available materials. Since prices and policies for obtaining these books vary, please check with each organization before requesting a title.

The number following the name of the organization is its index number. The complete name and address of the organization, along with services provided, will be found under that number in the section "Volunteers Who Produce Books."

Certified Proofreaders

There are two types of certification in braille proofreading. The proofreader holding an A Certificate is qualified to make corrections in braille transcriptions and may proofread for individuals, groups, or the Library of Congress. The proofreader holding a B Certificate does not make corrections in braille transcription and is qualified to proofread only when corrections are made by the brailist.

In the following list, the holder of a B Certificate is indicated by an asterisk.

Index

To locate a group with a particular capability, consult the following alphabetical index. Because almost every volunteer group can braille general works, neither "braille" nor "literary" appears as an index heading, although "recording" and "large type" do. The numbers listed under each heading are the index numbers assigned consecutively to volunteer groups in the order they appear in the body of the directory. In the index, the numbers under each capability are grouped by format: braille, recording, and large type.

Please report omissions or corrections for future editions.
